

Our People Strategy

With pride. With purpose. With you.
2023-2027 and beyond.

Introduction

Sarah Getley
Assistant Director for People

Our People Strategy has helped us to grow and develop as a council. Our achievements over the last few years have provided us with a fantastic platform to build on. The strategy has helped us to lead our people well during unprecedented times, during which colleagues have shown resilience and strength to achieve amazing outcomes for the people of Staffordshire. We are proud of all that we have achieved together.

Our smart working agenda has changed our culture for the better and has given our people the confidence to do things differently, make bold decisions and modernise the way we work.

Our future challenges

As we move into the future, the nature of the challenges we face and how we respond will be very different. Having leaders that can bring innovation and encourage collaboration will be important to address these challenges. It's essential that we look up and out for innovative ideas to deliver change in challenging times. We must keep and build on the agility we showed during the pandemic.

The people delivering outcomes for Staffordshire are wider than the people we directly employ. They are also made up of volunteers, commissioned adult and children social care providers, maintained schools and academies and the employees of our partners. We need to make sure we share our People Strategy with stakeholders and partners and explore how we innovate and collaborate for better outcomes.

People Services achievements

Our refreshed People Strategy builds on our journey so far.

You can see some of our biggest achievements on this page.

This provides us with an excellent platform to build on, embedding our vision and values.

We will continue to make sure that we develop our people and bring in new people who are able to realise their potential, supporting the delivery of effective and efficient services to the people of Staffordshire.

The COVID-19 pandemic had an impact on our people and the way in which we work. It showed how well our people respond and adapt to new challenges, but also presented an opportunity to re-shape the way we work.

Directorate achievements and ongoing activity

Our People Strategy has also been brought to life through the work that each directorate has delivered. This has looked and felt different in each business area to reflect the needs of our people.

This page highlights some of the great work that our people have collectively achieved.

Some of this work continues and each directorate is committed to building on this to make Staffordshire a great place to work.

How our People Strategy connects

We have a clear and compelling vision for Staffordshire. Our Strategic Plan sets out our ambitions for our communities and our People Strategy mirrors these ambitions for our people. The People Strategy supports our council's aim to be an excellent employer with a welcoming culture, in which people live and breathe our vision and values. This strategy is for you and about you.

We want to:

- Build a workplace where our people can be their best and demonstrate our values through everything they do.

Our people

Understanding the make-up of our people helps us to plan for the future.

We know:

- Our workforce is large and across a diverse range of roles with low turnover in most areas. Clear directorate workforce planning helps us to be agile and responsive to emerging needs.
- That due to our ageing workforce, we need to have succession plans in place to grow our talent and support knowledge transfer.
- That investment in apprenticeship recruitment and early career opportunities will develop new talent.
- Our risk areas in terms of recruitment and retention of key professions and have plans in place to address these risks.
- How to tackle the main causes of ill-health and how to use our excellent wellbeing services to support our people.
- The main causes of absence and have targeted interventions to address these areas.
- By making our reward and recruitment processes more inclusive we can improve our gender pay gap.
- Building a diverse and inclusive environment, reflective of the people of Staffordshire will enhance creativity and result in better outcomes.

Our values

Our values define us

We all share a common purpose of public service to the people of Staffordshire.

Our values support our Strategic Plan and vision and are at the heart of everything we do.

Our people are A C E and unique, which is why we want to make sure we lead them well and provide the benefits and wellbeing support they need.

Our people have different roles, different things that motivate them, different learning needs and will be at different stages of their career journey. But our values unite us to achieve amazing things.

Ambitious

We are ambitious for our communities and the people of Staffordshire

Courageous

We recognise our challenges and are prepared to make courageous decisions

Empowering

We empower and support our people by giving them the opportunity to do their jobs well

Attracting and keeping talented people

We are an organisation with big ambitions so we need talented people. We want our people to have a positive experience at work, and to feel engaged with their team and our vision, so that they want to go the extra mile. We need to have people who want to build their future with us, feel they belong and can make a difference.

We must also be able to attract new talent who can bring fresh ideas. To achieve this we will create attractive, meaningful roles that provide opportunities for career progression. This will mean better opportunities for our people, so they can perform well in their roles and pursue exciting careers in the public sector. We will create an environment where our people embrace learning as part of their everyday activity.

Developing leaders for now and the future

Our leaders are not just people in senior positions, they are at all levels across the council. Leaders have a significant part to play in our success and in championing our vision and values.

Our challenge is to lead in an increasingly complex and challenging environment. To succeed, we need to help our leaders to be engaged, optimistic and resilient, so they can navigate the future. Our leaders will have a clear sense of purpose and possess the skills to lead transformational change whilst keeping their teams happy, healthy and productive.

We will:

1. Create a culture where leaders feel confident to operate and lead in an ambiguous environment, think differently, take informed risks and be accountable for themselves and others.
2. Promote visible, values led and inclusive leadership at all levels.
3. Support leaders to design effective services, make sound decisions and manage change well.
