“Exploring, Engaging, Reflecting”: embedding the new Staffordshire Agreed Syllabus in RE

Rationale

In July 2016 the new Staffordshire Agreed Syllabus in Religious Education was adopted by the County Council for use from September 2016; the Syllabus had an official launch in January 2017. During the current academic year (2016-17) numerous launch events have been held for subject leaders, so that schools should be fully compliant with the new Syllabus by September 2017. Feedback from schools on the new Syllabus has already been very positive. The county contains almost 400 state-funded schools, well over half of which are still funded through the county and will therefore be using the new Syllabus – say around 235 schools. It is expected that many academies in the county will also be transferring to the new Syllabus.

The Syllabus affirms that the role of RE is to foster in each pupil a growing level of religious literacy, through three complementary aims, encapsulated as Exploring, Engaging, Reflecting. The first two of these correspond to the standard themes of “Learning about” and “Learning from” religion. The third aim is innovatory and radical: it calls for pupils to “acquire a growing range of the social, spiritual and emotional skills and dispositions appropriate to living well in a religiously plural and open society, by reflecting on the reality of religious diversity and on the issues raised by living in a diverse world”.

While this aspiration relates realistically to the demographic situation in the country as a whole, the population in Staffordshire is markedly less diverse than that of neighbouring authorities, of the region, and of England, both in religious variety and in numerical presence. The statistics given in the Appendix reveal and present certain challenges for teachers as they work to bring the third aim “to life” in the classroom, and so enable their pupils to have the opportunity and experience of engaging in and reflecting on religious diversity.

Staffordshire SACRE was particularly mindful of these statistics during the creation of its new Agreed Syllabus for Religious Education. There was a deliberate intention to ensure that despite the limited diversity in the county, Staffordshire’s pupils would be both required and supported to understand more fully and reflect on the religious diversity of our nation. Staffordshire SACRE is seeking to support and empower schools to fulfil the requirements of the third aim through the creation of a face to faith experience entitled ‘Explore, Engage, Reflect’. In seeking to draw pupils out of their comfort zones into engaging with the reality of diversity, the new Staffordshire RE Agreed Syllabus will help to shape future generations.

The project: Explore, Engage, Reflect

Staffordshire SACRE is applying for a Westhill/NASACRE award of £4000 in order to offer Staffordshire pupils an interfaith encounter that supports and promotes the syllabus aims. The intention is to provide a compelling learning experience with a firm foundation for schools to build upon. Specifically Staffordshire SACRE intends to:

- Set up an interfaith experience called ‘Explore Engage, Reflect’ which will make six visits across the county of Staffordshire. ‘Explore, Engage, Reflect’ will have a Christian and Muslim focus and the experience will be led by adherents to the faiths who are skilled in the field of education. The experience will take the form of a morning encounter with Christianity and an afternoon encounter with Islam. It will be designed to be fully interactive with pupils exploring artefacts, images and text; engaging with key questions relevant to the faiths in question; and reflecting on what it means to live your faith within England through a real opportunity for dialogue.

- 6 schools will be selected to host ‘Explore Engage, Reflect’ and, dependent on school size, either a whole school or an entire key stage will fully benefit from the experience. Pupils will visit the experience in small groups enabling the opportunity for thorough investigation and meaningful exploration and dialogue. A resource pack of preparation and follow up materials will be provided to support host schools to get the maximum benefit from the experience.
- A legacy resource will be created to support schools and equip them to meet the requirements of the third syllabus aim. It will act as a guide for schools wishing to put together their own interfaith experience in school. The resource will be made available to all Staffordshire schools as a supporting document for the syllabus.
- School staff experiencing ‘Explore, Engage, Reflect’ would be encouraged to attend their local NATRE group to present the professional development opportunities they benefitted from by hosting the experience.
- The local press and County Councillors will be invited to experience ‘Explore, Engage, Reflect’. A follow up article will also be written for RE Today magazine.

Staffordshire SACRE believes that this project will:

- Promote dialogue between the young people of Staffordshire and give them an opportunity to explore the religions around them.
- Provide capacity for extended community impact through encouraging schools to meet and work together and to engage meaningfully with the religious communities around them.
- Provide a CPD opportunity for subject leaders both on the day and at future NATRE meetings.
- Meet a specific need within Staffordshire. The nature of Staffordshire means that it is often difficult for schools to deliver interfaith experiences for their pupils. Staffordshire SACRE will connect schools with organisations that are ongoing and can support with this aim both during and after the event.
- Empower schools to produce interfaith events in the future through a legacy document that will support schools to plan future events successfully
- Be sustainable. The sustainability of ‘Explore, Engage, Reflect’ long term is important and the two organisations we plan to involve are sustainable and their work can be developed.
- Focus on widening participation and reach where appropriate and possible. The experience will be offered to schools where there will be maximum impact so schools, for example basing ‘Explore, Engage, Reflect’ in schools that are already working collaboratively or where it would help them to work collaboratively in the future.

Delivery of “Explore, Engage, Reflect”

- The Youth Net will be commissioned to deliver the Christian based content for ‘Explore, Engage, Reflect’. The Youth Net is a Stafford based Christian charity whose leader Sam Phillips is a member of SACRE (Committee A, Free Church). It exists to:
 - Support and resource churches in their delivery of excellent children’s, youth and schools work;
 - Support and resource schools in their delivery of an excellent RE and SMSC curriculum;
 - Network, encourage and equip children’s, youth and schools’ workers;
 - Deliver excellent children’s, youth and schools work;
 - Support children and young people to flourish spiritually, emotionally, educationally and socially.

- Waheeda Qureshi and Mohammed Fahim, members of The Linguistic and Cultural Mediator (LCM) team at Entrust, will be commissioned to deliver the Muslim content for ‘Explore, Engage, Reflect’. Entrust works in partnership with Staffordshire schools, academy trusts and the county to provide specialist support, ensuring every child and young person:
 - receives a good education;
 - is in a safe and healthy environment;
 - and is given expert guidance to realise their full potential.

- Emma Jardine-Phillips, Education Consultant, County RE Adviser and Advanced Skills Teacher in RE will be commissioned to oversee the project and create the legacy resource.
